

Arnold & Porter LLP and McDermott Will & Emery LLP in partnership with the First Amendment Center invite you to join us for a unique event. Moderators John Nassikas, Abbe Lowell, and Baruch Weiss, the lead defense lawyers in the AIPAC Espionage Act case, welcome you to join the Newseum and the First Amendment Center in a discussion about the intersection of criminal law, national security, and the First Amendment, from the Pentagon Papers to the AIPAC Espionage Act case, to the current travails of Wikileaks and the latest leak case, United States v. Stephen Kim.

Criminal Law, National Security, and the First Amendment

10:00 a.m.–10:15 a.m. Introductory Remarks

Gene Policinski, Vice President and Executive Director, First Amendment Center
John N. Nassikas, Partner, Arnold & Porter; Former Assistant US Attorney for the Eastern District of VA

10:15 a.m.–11:45 a.m. The News Media and National Security

This panel will discuss the issues involved when the government seeks to release or hold information that is classified. These issues also may implicate national security and whether the use and reporting of this information in the media is or should be treated differently than any other type of government information. The panel will also discuss the interplay of the First Amendment on these issues.

Moderator: Abbe D. Lowell, Partner, McDermott Will & Emery; Chief Minority Counsel to US House of Representatives in President Clinton Impeachment; Former Special Assistant to the Attorney General and the Deputy Attorney General

Panelists: Jeffrey H. Smith, Partner, Arnold & Porter; Former General Counsel, CIA; Current Member of CIA Director Leon Panetta's Advisory Board
Eric Lieberman, General Counsel, The Washington Post
Mark Mazzetti, Intelligence Correspondent, The New York Times
Gabriel Schoenfeld, Senior Fellow, Hudson Institute
Walter H. Pincus, Reporter, Intelligence/CIA/National Security, The Washington Post

11:45 a.m.–1:00 p.m. Luncheon with General Michael Hayden, Principal, Chertoff Group; Former Director, CIA; First Principal Deputy Director of National Intelligence; and Director, National Security Agency

1:00 p.m.–3:00 p.m. Prosecuting and Defending Cases Involving Classified Information

This panel will explore the problems for the government in investigating and prosecuting cases in which national security violations are alleged or classified national security information is or may be involved, the defense of such cases, and the First Amendment issues implicated.

Moderator: Baruch Weiss, Partner, Arnold & Porter; Former High-Level Official with the Dept. of Homeland Security and Dept. of Treasury; Former Assistant US Attorney, Southern District of NY

Panelists: Lucy Dalglish, Executive Director, The Reporters Committee for Freedom of the Press
Michael Isikoff, National Investigative Reporter, NBC News
William Leonard, Chief Operating Officer, National Endowment for Democracy; Former Director, Internal Security Oversight Office (Classification Czar)
Kenneth L. Wainstein, Partner, O'Melveny & Myers LLP; Former Assistant Attorney General for National Security at the Dept. of Justice; Former US Attorney, District of Columbia

When: Friday, October 29, 2010

Registration: 9:30 a.m.

Program: 10:00 a.m.–3:00 p.m.

Where: Knight Conference Center at the Newseum
Seventh Floor
555 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20001

Participants and attendees should use the Sixth Street entrance to the Newseum. Parking is available in the area.

Although the program is complimentary, registration is required. RSVP to Ashlie Hampton or by calling +1 202.292.6288.